I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In 2009 through House Bill (H.B.) 492, 81st Legislature, Regular Session, Texas became the first state in the country to pass legislation specifically to improve the relationship between state government and faith and community-based organizations (FCBOs) seeking to partner with the state to help meet health and human service needs. Subsequent legislation passed in the 82nd Legislature, Regular Session, expanded this initiative through House Bill (H.B.) 1965, by adding additional state agencies in its charge. Both Acts directed the chief administrative officer of the named state agencies to appoint, in consultation with the Governor, a faith and community liaison in each agency. These liaisons serve on the Interagency Coordinating Group (ICG) chaired by the CEO of the State Commission on National and Community Service (OneStar Foundation), also a named member of the ICG.

The first bill, H.B. 492, directed agency liaisons to work within their respective agencies to: 1) identify and remove unnecessary barriers to partnerships between the state agency the liaison represents and faith and community-based organizations; 2) provide information and training, if necessary, for employees of the state agency the liaison represents regarding equal opportunity standards for faith and community-based organizations seeking to partner with state government; 3) facilitate the identification of practices with demonstrated effectiveness for faith and community-based organizations that partner with the state agency the liaison represents; and 4) work with the appropriate departments and programs of the state agency the liaison represents to conduct outreach efforts to inform and welcome faith and community-based organizations that have not traditionally formed partnerships with the agency.

Subsequently, H.B. 1965 directed agency liaisons to: 1) develop and implement a plan for improving contracting relationships between state agencies and faith and community-based organization; 2) develop best practices for cooperating and collaborating with faith and community-based organizations; 3) identify and address duplication of services provided by the state and faith and community-based organizations; and 4) identify and address gaps in state services that faith and community-based organizations could fill.

In 2013 during the 83rd Legislature, Regular Session, Senate Bill (S.B.) 993 created the Texas Nonprofit Council. The purpose of the Council is to coordinate with the ICG in furthering the activities under H.B. 1965 as outlined above. The Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) in consultation with the presiding officer of the ICG (OneStar Foundation) appointed twelve members to the new council, through a competitive process, to represent the categories outlined in the bill. The chair of the ICG and the chair of the Council developed initial strategies to engage Council members in the work of the ICG.

Following the 83rd Legislative Session, the Texas Sunset Advisory Commission, which is charged with periodic assessment of all state agencies, initiated a review of the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC). Through an exhaustive process including public comment and testimony, the Sunset Commission determined which HHSC programs and services should be eliminated, transferred to other agencies, or restructured to improve efficiency and reduce waste or duplication. The recommendations were presented to the 84th legislature in 2015 for consideration and debate in the form of S.B. 200.

Among the extensive recommendations of the Sunset Advisory Commission was the abolition of dozens of task forces, councils, and advisory committees. Included in this sweeping recommendation was the elimination of the Interagency Coordinating Group and the Texas Nonprofit Council, neither of which are advisory bodies to HHSC. By the end of the legislative session, the continuation of both the ICG and the Texas Nonprofit Council was addressed through an amendment that moved some responsibilities from the Health and Human Services Commission to the Governor's Office.

S.B. 200 removed the requirements for HHSC to provide administrative support to the Interagency Coordinating Group, and directed that the state agencies that make up the ICG provide administrative support as coordinated by the ICG’s presiding officer. The bill also specifies that the state agencies on the Interagency Coordinating Group must provide administrative support for the Texas Nonprofit Council, as coordinated by the presiding officer of the ICG Group, and that the governor, instead of the executive commissioner of HHSC, shall appoint the members of the Council, which represent each group or entity’s appropriate sector.

The ICG met in February, August and November. In February, a representative from the new administration spoke briefly to attendees about Governor Abbott’s priorities. In August and November, member agencies presented pertinent information on legislation that had passed in the 84th session.

As presiding officer of the Interagency Coordinating Group, I respectfully submit this year’s report on the goals, activities, and progress of the ICG from January through December 2015. Previous reports submitted outline specific actions taken since the passage of the initial legislation in 2009. These reports can be found on the OneStar Foundation website.

II. ICG DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

ICG Duties and Responsibilities (APPENDIX A)

- Sec. 535.053. (c)(1) — Meet periodically at the call of the presiding officer.
- Sec. 535.053. (c)(2) — Work across state agencies and with State Commission on National and Community Service to facilitate the removal of unnecessary interagency barriers to partnerships between state agencies and faith and community-based organizations.
- Sec. 535.053. (c)(3) — Operate in a manner that promotes effective partnerships between those agencies and organizations to serve residents of this state who need assistance.

ICG Additional Duties and Responsibilities (APPENDIX B)

- Sec. 535.055. (c) — In addition to the Interagency Coordinating Group’s other duties, the Interagency Coordinating Group, in coordination with the Texas Nonprofit Council (per S.B. 993 83R) shall:
1. Develop and implement a plan for improving contracting relationships between state agencies and faith and community-based organizations;
2. Develop best practices for cooperating and collaborating with faith and community-based organizations;
3. Identify and address duplication of services provided by the state and faith and community-based organizations; and
4. Identify and address gaps in state services that faith and community-based organizations could fill.

ICG Reporting Duties

- Sec. 535.054. (a) — No later than December 1 of each year, the Interagency Coordinating Group shall submit a report to the legislature that describes in detail the activities, goals, and progress of the Interagency Coordinating Group.
- Sec. 535.054. (b) — The report made under Subsection (a) must be made available to the public through posting on the Office of the Governor’s website.

III. TEXAS NONPROFIT COUNCIL

The Texas Nonprofit Council (APPENDIX C) was established by S.B. 993 during the 83rd Legislative Session in 2013 to help direct the work of the Interagency Coordinating Group (ICG). The Council, in coordination with the ICG will: 1) make recommendations for improving contracting relationships between state agencies and faith and community-based organizations; 2) develop best practices for cooperating and collaborating with faith and community-based organizations; 3) identify and address duplication of services provided by the state and faith and community-based organizations; and 4) identify and address gaps in state services that faith and community-based organizations could fill.

The Council focused its activities in 2015 on addressing the Sunset Advisory Commission’s recommendation for elimination. As a nongovernmental, independent entity, the Council effectively campaigned through written and verbal testimony as well as educational exchanges with pertinent leaders involved with S.B. 200. Concurrently, the Council identified proposed legislation, the implementation of which could benefit from intentional engagement by faith and community-based networks. The Council also held a nonprofit advocacy day at the capitol in April to highlight the economic impact and value of the nonprofit sector in Texas and the importance of nonprofit partnerships in facilitating state agency mandates to serve the citizens of Texas.

IV.(a) ICG GOALS, ACTIVITIES, AND PROGRESS (January – December 2015)

Goal 1 — Continue implementation of the plan for improving contracting relationships between state agencies and faith and community-based organizations.

Activity and Progress:

In January 2015, just as the 84th legislative session began, former Attorney General Greg Abbott, was sworn into office as the 48th Governor of the State of Texas. One of the first priorities of the Governor was to address contracting and procurement issues within the state’s largest agency, the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC). Based upon the March 2015 report of the Health and Human Services Strike Force as well as recommendations of the Sunset Advisory Commission, the HHSC was directed to make improvements in its procurement and contracting processes. HHSC and the five agencies under its purview comprise a considerable presence on the Interagency Coordinating Group. Although some minor improvements to the contracting process had been initiated by ICG agencies in previous years, it was prudent for the ICG to pause any additional work in this area as HHSC restructured and implemented new protocols for procurement and contracting.

Goal 2 — Develop best practices for cooperating and collaborating with faith and community-based organizations.

Activity and Progress:

An on-going activity of the ICG and the Texas Nonprofit Council is to highlight effective partnerships between ICG agencies and faith and community-based organizations.
as together they seek to effectively serve residents of the state who need assistance. By featuring what is working well, other agencies may choose to develop innovative practices they previously had not considered in their efforts to collaborate with FCBOs. Previous ICG annual reports detail numerous best practices and innovative strategies. The following were submitted by ICG liaisons for 2015:

COMPTROLLER OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

The Comptroller of Public Accounts (CPA) has continued to make the RFP template for client services described in last year’s ICG report (see excerpt below) available on the CPA website.

“ICG GOALS, ACTIVITIES, AND PROGRESS (January – December 2013)

Goal - Develop and implement a plan for improving contracting relationships between state agencies and faith and community-based organizations

Activity and Progress:

The committee on Improving Contracting Relations was composed of subject matter experts from several different ICG agencies. The work plan (APPENDIX D) for this group was based upon the issues as noted in the November 2010 report from the Task Force on Strengthening Nonprofit Capacity (H.B. 492). In 2013 under the leadership of this committee the ICG and its member agencies accomplished the following:

1. A Request for Proposal (RFP) template was approved by member agencies
   (APPENDIX E)

2. The template was posted on the Comptroller’s website

CPA supports non-profit assistance organizations by providing them access to statewide term contracts through the State of Texas Cooperative (CO-OP) Purchasing Program. The CO-OP Program Coordinator works closely with the non-profit community to ensure they are aware of this opportunity and assists them with taking advantage of all of the program’s benefits. A link to the CO-OP Program website was recently added to the OneStar Foundation’s website and we are continuously seeking new opportunities to build networks within the non-profit community.

CPA serves in an advisory capacity to assist the Texas Workforce Commission and Texas Council on Purchasing from Persons with Disabilities (TCPDD) to promote the use of products made by people with disabilities in Texas. The Texas Procurement and Support Services Division of CPA provides guidance and support for achieving the program’s goals.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGING AND DISABILITY SERVICES (DADS)

DADS continues to grow the “Age Well Live Well” initiative, which develops collaborations to promote community engagement, health and wellness, and resource awareness for older Texans and people with disabilities. Through this initiative, local organizations work together to connect community members to resources, health and wellness programs, and volunteer opportunities. Local communities that are implementing the program include but are not limited to: Denton, Abilene, Houston, Garland, San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Bend County, Tyler, East Austin, and Sherman. Key organizations involved with many of the collaboratives include: DADS state and local offices; Aging and Disability Resource Centers; area agencies on aging; AgriLIFE extension agents; civic and social organizations; hospital groups; parks and recreation departments; and aging and disability service providers.

HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES COMMISSION

Community Resource Coordination Groups (CRCGs) are county-based groups made up of public and private agencies that partner with children, families or adults with complex multi-agency needs in order to develop customized, integrated, individual service plans. Local CRCG members include representatives from schools, public and private sector health and human services agencies, faith and community-based organizations, local criminal justice organizations, and other organizations. As part of the individual service planning process, CRCG members help individuals and families identify and coordinate needed resources and services in their communities.

S.B. 1468, 77th Legislature, Regular Session, 2001, formalized the CRCG program that requires a joint Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between multiple state agencies. The state agencies included in the MOU are listed below. Each of these agencies (or their local representative) participates in local CRCG work, as well as related coordinating efforts at the statewide level.

- Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC);
- Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services (DADS);
- Texas Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services (DARS);
- Texas Department of Family and Protective Services (DFPS);
- Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS);
- Texas Correctional Office on Offenders with Medical or Mental Impairments (TCOOMI);
- Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs (TDHCA);
- Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ);
- Texas Juvenile Justice Department (TJJD);
- Texas Education Agency (TEA); and
- Texas Workforce Commission (TWC).
CRCG Program Overview

- State CRCG Office

  The HHSC Office of Social Services provides additional support for the CRCG program. The State CRCG Office at HHSC provides local CRCGs with training and technical assistance; program model oversight; and policy and programmatic guidance. The State CRCG Office manages the state program budget; completes data collection; reporting; and conducts related research. The State CRCG Office also leads the State CRCG Workgroup, which consists of participating agencies and serves to respond to regional and state level concerns in each agency; serves as a liaison with state program partners; and represents the CRCG program in relevant workgroups and committees.

- Local CRCGs

  CRCGs are locally arranged and managed. At the local level, CRCG partners include representatives from the legislatively mandated state agencies, faith and community-based organizations, and family and youth representatives. According to a recent (November, 2015) survey of local CRCGs the majority of the partners represented on local CRCGs are community-based/non-profit organizations (23.7%) followed by state agency personnel (15.4%), local mental health authority (LMHA) personnel (11.6%), juvenile justice personnel (10.8%), and school personnel (10.8%).

  Local CRCGs meet on a regular basis to plan specific services for children, youth, and adults whose needs have not been met through existing resources and channels. Local CRCG members work together to identify service gaps, duplication of efforts and unmet needs. CRCGs help to utilize existing resources efficiently and are often successful in finding new resources to address service gaps and barriers.

  There are currently 234 counties covered by a CRCG. Based on information submitted to HHSC by local CRCGs, in calendar year 2013 approximately 930 individuals were assisted by a local CRCG.
• CRCG Findings

Where active, CRCGs consistently report that the local interagency collaboration process has improved service delivery for high needs individuals resulting in:

- More effective service provision;
- Increased professional and community networks and public-private partnerships; and
- Increased capacity of CRCG partners to serve those in need.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

• Governor Abbott’s Religious Liberty Directive

Under Gov. Greg Abbott, the Office of the Governor (OOG) has worked diligently to protect religious liberty in Texas. Faith-based organizations are vital to the well-being of Texans, and many of them work with the State of Texas to provide crucial services to the people of this state. It is paramount to ensure the religious liberties of these faith-based organizations (FBOs) are protected, so they continue to feel comfortable collaborating with state government without fear of coercion or intimidation.

Immediately after the U.S. Supreme Court issued its same-sex marriage ruling in Obergefell v. Hodges, Gov. Abbott issued a directive to all state agency heads on the issue of religious liberty. In that directive, he noted, “The government must never pressure a person to abandon or violate his or her sincerely held religious beliefs regarding a topic such as marriage.” He went on, “As government officials, we have a constitutional duty to preserve, protect, and defend the religious liberty of every Texan. With these obligations in mind, I expect all agencies under my direction to prioritize compliance with the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, Article I of the Texas Constitution, and the Texas Religious Freedom Restoration Act. All state agency heads should ensure that no one acting on behalf of their agency takes any adverse action against any person, as defined in Chapter 311 of the Texas Government Code, on account of the person’s act or refusal to act that is substantially motivated by sincere religious belief. This order applies to any agency decision, including but not limited to granting or denying benefits, managing agency employees, entering or enforcing agency contracts, licensing and permitting decisions, or enforcing state laws and regulations.”

Since Gov. Abbott issued that directive, the OOG has been in contact with state agency staff as well as nonprofits that contract, receive grants from, or otherwise have legal arrangements with state agencies. The OOG is working to ensure maximum awareness of and compliance with the directive to ensure that no organization or individual is coerced, intimidated or infringed upon by Texas state government because of their position on marriage – or any other issue that is animated by their deeply held religious beliefs.

Areas in which FBOs or individuals work with the state include the foster care/child welfare system, the Alternatives to Abortion program, the abstinence program, the marriage education program, marriage and family counselors licensing, and chaplaincy programs.

- Governor’s Committee on People with Disabilities

The Governor’s Committee on People with Disabilities (GCPD) consistently works with a network of community-based disability organizations and local committees throughout the state. The networking serves as a primary goal in providing community groups with information and training on the resources, opportunities, rights and responsibilities of Texans with disabilities. Examples of community-based organizations with which the GCPD regularly communicates include various Mayor’s Committees on People with Disabilities, as well as local chapters of The Arc of Texas, Goodwill Industries, Easter Seals, Paralyzed Veterans, the Down Syndrome Partnership, Special Olympics Texas, the Autism Society, the United Way, VSA Texas (the state organization on arts and disability), the American Federation for the Blind, the Hearing Loss Association of America, the National Association of Mental Illness, and other disability organizations such as various parent organizations focused on special education issues and community-based recreational organizations for people with disabilities. GCPD also networks with several professional advocacy groups, such as Disability Rights Texas and the Coalition of Texans with Disabilities, to help stay in tune with various perspectives on the need for potential legislation to protect the rights and needs of people with disabilities. Additionally, the GCPD coordinates with all of these (and other) groups to assist with surveys that help give insight into the needs and concerns of those in the disability community.

In September 2015, GCPD partnered with the US Business Leadership Network (USBLN) on outreach and planning for their annual conference, held this year in Austin. USBLN is a national nonprofit organization that creates a network of employers (from large international corporations to small individual-owned businesses) who benefit from sharing ideas on attaining full inclusion in the workplace, understanding the ADA requirements, and promoting a positive attitude toward hiring and retaining people with disabilities and dispelling common myths. GCPD worked with USBLN on putting together a “hackathon,” teaching students to think creatively about innovative accommodations in the school and workplace for people with disabilities. GCPD also facilitated a meeting of various Central Texas people interested in forming local USBLN chapters to visit with the executive director and other staff members from USBLN. Two local chapter formations (Austin and San Antonio) are currently in progress; one is active in Houston.

GCPD maintains a Quarterly Calendar of Events on its website to raise awareness of events, activities, and trainings of specific interest to people with disabilities and professionals in the field of disabilities. The calendar includes national, statewide, online and local listings.

The GCPD’s interactions with faith and community-based organizations include the dissemination of disability-related information through its GovDelivery notification system. Also, GCPD networks with such organizations as the Texas Faith Inclusion Network on Disabilities (TxFIND) and the Collaborative on Faith and Disabilities, as well as local places of worship across the state, to share information on events, legislation, resources, etc.

Other significant networking projects include the monthly Tech Lunch, hosted at various restaurants in Austin as an opportunity for professionals in the field of accessible technology to share innovative ideas and projects, and frequent collaborative projects with organizations such as Knowbility (focused on accessible technology); the Department of Aging and Disability Services (DADS) on an annual music performance featuring adults with developmental disabilities; the Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services (DARS) and Workforce Solutions on outreach and nominations for GCPD’s annual Lex Frieden Employment Awards; various art organizations for submissions to the annual National Disability Employment Awareness Month (NDEAM) Texas Poster Art competition; statewide Texas Education Agency’s Education Service Centers for outreach on such projects as “The Scoop” (GCPD’s video and lesson plans to teach students about disability issues and how to respectfully and accurately write about them), the NDEAM Art competition, and the annual Paralyzed Veterans of America Poster and Essay contest.

GCPD also reaches out across the state through its committee members to serve as speakers at events, resource specialists and various other professional outreach projects. At each quarterly meeting, committee members report on their activities as representatives of GCPD.

- Criminal Justice Division

Resources within the Criminal Justice Division (CJD) are dedicated towards programs that protect people from crime, reduce the number of crimes committed, respond to the needs of crime victims, and promote accountability, efficiency and effectiveness within the criminal justice system. Nonprofit and FBOs are eligible grant recipients within several of the fund sources that the Criminal Justice Division administers, but to date FBOs have only applied for and received Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) funds. VOCA grants help crime victims through crisis intervention and assist with the provision of emergency shelter, counseling and criminal justice advocacy. The FBOs that received these grants provided these and other services, such as transportation to court proceedings, safety planning, medical accompaniment and peer support groups.

In Fiscal Year 2015, 180 nonprofit agencies received $38.8 million in funding from CJD – $788,000 of which went to faith-based organizations. In Fiscal Year 2016, more than 200 nonprofit agencies from across the state will receive CJD funding totaling nearly $100 million. Of that, about $2 million will be granted to faith-based programs.

The 84th Legislature passed, and Gov. Abbott signed, two bills that call for additional collaboration between CJD and the nonprofit sector. H.B. 10 and H.B. 1446 both increase the OOG’s role in combatting child sex trafficking. H.B. 10 establishes a “Child Sex Trafficking Prevention Unit” in the OOG and contains provisions that require the unit to “place victims of child sex trafficking in suitable short-term and long-term housing”; “collect and analyze research and information in all areas related to child sex trafficking, and distribute the research, information, and analyses to the agencies and to relevant nonprofit organizations”; and “refer victims of child sex trafficking to available rehabilitation programs and other resources.” H.B. 1446, which creates a “Governor’s Program for Victim of Child Sex Trafficking,” includes a provision that “the director of the program shall coordinate with state and local law enforcement agencies, state agencies, and service providers to identify victims of child sex trafficking who are eligible to receive services under the program.” Both of these child sex trafficking programs are housed within CJD, and the division is actively working to implement and staff them appropriately. Upon completion of this process, CJD will fully comply with the respective provisions that apply to nonprofit organizations

- Texas Nonprofit Council

The 84th Legislature also enacted SB 200, which required many changes within the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC). One of those changes involved the structure of the Texas Nonprofit Council (TNC) – shifting the authority for appointing TNC members from HHSC to the governor, in consultation with the head of the Interagency Coordinating Group. The law requires the governor to appoint two representatives from the following groups and entities to the TNC:

- statewide nonprofit organizations;
- local governments;
- faith-based groups, at least one of which must be a statewide interfaith group;
community-based groups;
consultants to nonprofit corporations; and statewide associations of nonprofit organizations.

The OOG is currently working to implement the changes required in SB 200.

TEXAS JUVENILE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

Texas Juvenile Justice Department continues to engage a large number of community and faith-based organizations in the rehabilitation of youthful offenders. During fiscal year 2015, TJJD enrolled 1,299 community volunteers representing many different CFBO’s, and they contributed 76,618 hours of service at facilities across the state. Additionally, hundreds more visitors participated in volunteer-led projects and religious services.

TJJD has also established formal partnerships, via memorandums of understanding and contracts for services, with the following CFBO’s:

- Abigail Arms Cook Count Crisis Center (Hotline crisis center for Gainesville, TX)
- Action Focus Solutions Inc. Subsidiary of Rio Grande Valley Council (Specialized Treatment AOD)
- Advocacy Center for Crime Victims (Hotline Crisis Center for Mart and Ron Jackson facilities)
- Bastrop County Women’s Shelter (Crisis hotline for Giddings, TX)
- Better Pathways PA (Specialized Treatment)
- Family Crisis Center (Hotline crisis center for Tamayo & Evins facilities)
- Family Outreach of Denton (Hotline crisis center for McFadden facility)
- National Center for Juvenile Justice (Research)
- New Lite Counseling Center (Specialized Treatment)
- People Need People (Specialized Treatment Services)
- Pinnacle Social Services, L.L.C (Specialized Treatment)
• Rape Crisis Center (Hotline crisis center for Ayres House)
• Recovery Resource Council (Willoughby facility)
• Samaritan Counseling Center of TX (Specialized Treatment AOD)
• Stars Rape Crisis Center (Hotline crisis center for Schaeffer House)
• Women's Shelter of South Texas (Hotline crisis York & Evins facilities)

TJJD’s website provides information regarding the Texas Faith-Based & Community Initiative. The webpage features live links to OneStar Foundation’s website and the Comptroller’s RFP webpage. The agency has also added an addendum to TJJD’s agency RFP template that asks applicants to self-identify as community and/or faith-based organizations so the agency may track the interest of such organizations.

TEXAS VETERANS COMMISSION

The Texas Veterans Commission (TVC) has robust and vital relationships with non-profit and faith-based organizations across Texas to assist in its mission to significantly improve the quality of life for all Texas Veterans, their Families and Survivors.

The Fund for Veterans’ Assistance (FVA) partners with the Texas Lottery Commission, DPS, DMV and TDHCA for funding of grants to non-profits and local government agencies that provide direct services to Texas Veterans and their families. These service organizations utilize FVA grants to provide financial assistance, counseling, transportation, housing assistance and many other vital services. A list of current FVA grantees, the services they provide and their contact information can be found at http://www.tvc.texas.gov/Grants-Awarded.aspx.

The Veteran Entrepreneur Program (VEP) partners with the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) (http://www.uta.edu/vets/index.php) to deliver Veteran entrepreneur services to veteran business owners in North Texas. UTA provides office and classroom space to VEP in exchange for VEP’s assistance in identifying veteran entrepreneurs with an interest in manufacturing who can then take advantage of UTA’s free Veteran Entrepreneur Manufacturing Boot Camp. http://tvc.texas.gov/Entrepreneur-Program.aspx.
The Women Veterans Program relies heavily upon collaboration with non-profit entities and community organizations for outreach opportunities in order to introduce women veterans to TVC services. Furthermore, non-profits and faith-based entities like Dress for Success, Worklife Institute, Catholic Charities Lotus Project, and Santa Maria Hostel provide workforce development resources, professional development, and homelessness assistance to Women Veterans. http://tvc.texas.gov/Women-Veterans.aspx.

TVC’s Military Veteran Peer Network (MVPN) has a dedicated liaison that works with community-based organizations and faith-based communities in understanding military culture, military trauma and how to access available Veteran services. Also, MVPN contracts with the interfaith counseling organization, Samaritan Center in Austin, for clinical services designed for veterans. Additionally, MVPN trains, certifies and provides technical assistance to 37 Local Mental Health Authorities for administration of their local MVPN programs. TEXAS WORKFORCE COMMISSION

TWC has expanded its role with employment for individuals with disabilities in two areas, due to legislation passed during the last legislative session.

- Transfer of State Use Program to TWC

  Senate Bill (S.B.) 212, passed by the 84th Texas Legislature, Regular Session (2015), abolished the Texas Council on Purchasing from People with Disabilities (TCPPD) and transferred all TCPPD rules, contracts, and operations to TWC, effective September 1, 2015. This change in Texas State Use Program meant that TWC would become involved with over 100 nonprofits.

  TCPPD was the policy-making body for the Texas State Use Program, which allows state and local government entities to purchase goods or services from nonprofits that provide productive employment to individuals with disabilities. Some other states and the federal government have similar programs. TIBH Industries administered the program by contracting with nonprofit local Community Rehabilitation Programs (CRPs), such as Goodwill and Lighthouse for the Blind local organizations.
In late July 2015, TWC posted an announcement on its website regarding applications for an advisory committee mandated by the legislature. TWC sent e-mail messages about the opportunity to numerous CRPs and organizations that advocate for those with disabilities. Additionally, TWC sent e-mails to the Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services to be forwarded to members in the community of individuals with disabilities. Applications were accepted for one month, after which TWC received 35 applications for the available positions. Subsequently, TWC reopened applications for positions on the advisory committee for employees of CRPs with disabilities.

In addition to establishing program performance goals, the advisory committee, which will meet twice annually, will establish criteria for certifying CRPs for program participation. TWC is in the process of appointing the committee, composed of the following:

- Four individuals from CRPs;
- Four individuals from organizations that advocate for individuals with disabilities;
- Four individuals with disabilities, including two who are employed by a participating CRP; and
- A designated representative from the Texas Health and Human Services Commission.

Transfer of Vocational Rehabilitation Programs to TWC

The last legislative session also transferred several of the state’s vocational rehabilitation programs to TWC, with an effective date of September 1, 2016. A legislative oversight committee was established to facilitate the transfer. A combined agency transition plan is due to the committee no later than March 2016. The vocational rehabilitation programs work with numerous nonprofit entities that provide services to individuals with disabilities.

Transfer of Adult Education Literacy Program
In 2013, the Texas Legislature transferred the Adult Education Literacy (AEL) program to the Texas Workforce Commission. TWC hired staff and began work to meet the legislature’s strategic vision of the program, with additional focus on employment and postsecondary outcomes and additional funding for initiatives that aid the system in meeting these objectives. In The Texas Interagency Literacy Report (2012) the Texas Workforce Investment Council (TWIC) estimated that Texas nonprofits and volunteer groups served about 80,000 students in 2011 in addition to the Texas Education Agency (TEA)–funded adult education classes which served approximately 100,000 in the same year. Nonprofits have historically and continue to play an important role in providing adult literacy education in Texas, and TWC has invested in the professional development of these entities to align and support the vision of the AEL program under TWC.

- Nonprofit/TWC Existing Contracts — Fiscal Year 2016

  In addition to the changes made during the last legislative session, TWC has the following existing contracts with nonprofits for Fiscal Year 2016.

TVOP focuses on reaching out to veterans with special challenges to employment, including veterans recently discharged from military service (within 48 months of application) who find difficulty in reintegrating into society and the job market; disabled veterans with either physical or mental disorders that may need special advocacy in selling their ability to employers; homeless veterans who need support services to stabilize their lives before entering the job search; and veterans with barriers to employment, such as a history of substance abuse and ex-offender status. Operating in San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, and El Paso, TVOP provides assessment services to potential participants and basic skills upgrade training, supportive services, and job placement services to enrolled participants.  GOAL 2 — Cooperating and Collaborating Additional Activities ICG member agencies continue to update their partnership and funding opportunities on the OneStar website home page onestarfoundation.org under “Texas Faith-Based and Community Initiative.” Visitors to the site can find:

- Background and history of the Interagency Coordinating Council
- General information for FCBOs on partnering with state agencies
- Frequently Asked Questions on contracting with the state
- Equal Treatment Training for state employees and faith-based organizations
- State and federal resources for procurement, contracts and grants
- State and national resources on grant writing, setting up a nonprofit, nonprofit careers and more.

GOALS 3 and 4 — Identify and address duplication of services provided by the state and faith and community-based organizations; and identify and address gaps in state services that faith and community-based organizations could fill.

Activity and Progress:

ICG agencies identify duplication of services or gaps in services generally when they have strong community partner networks at the local level. One example mentioned above is HHSC’s Community Resource Coordination Groups (CRCG) which meet on a regular basis to plan specific services for children, youth, and adults whose needs have not been met through existing resources and channels. Local CRCG members work together to identify service gaps, duplication of efforts and unmet needs. CRCGs help to utilize existing resources efficiently and are often successful in finding new resources to address service gaps and barriers.

Another tool for identifying duplication of services and gaps in services is OneStar Foundation’s Texas Connector texasconnects.org an interactive geo-mapping tool developed by OneStar and the North Central Texas Council on Governments. Texas Connector has been recognized nationally as the nation’s most robust statewide nonprofit database designed for nonprofits, government agencies, local governments, elected... officials, grant-makers and researchers to analyze community needs and nonprofit services. Many ICG agencies are currently using Texas Connector in their daily work.

Connector displays nonprofit information from a variety of state and national databases and overlays it with demographic and socioeconomic data derived from numerous governmental and other sources. Users can:

- Identify community needs, resources and nonprofit services to address gaps in service;
- Analyze the nonprofit infrastructure in general or in relation to particular needs or social indicators;
- Identify nonprofits by service category to promote collaboration or show duplication;
- Create customized demographic, statistical and provider reports for user identified regions of interest;
- Save and share custom searches, maps, identified service providers and demographic reports by zip code, county, school or legislative district, customized shape and a myriad of other options.

V. NEXT STEPS FOR 2016

ICG members will:

1) Keep agency information up-to-date on the OneStar website and continue to add new resources;
2) Promote the use of the Texas Connector as a resource for state agencies to identify duplication of services and gaps in services;
3) Further develop best practices for cooperation and collaboration between state agencies and FCBO networks;
4) Continue to work with agency leadership to reduce barriers for FCBOs and streamline procurement and contracting in alignment with all new directives.
Note: The Office of the Governor is addressing the changes to the structure of the Texas Nonprofit Council as directed in S. B. 200 (84R) which shifts the authority for appointing TNC members from HHSC to the governor, in consultation with the head of the Interagency Coordinating Group.

For questions related to this report or to obtain more information on the work of the Interagency Coordinating Group, please contact Elizabeth Darling, President/CEO of OneStar Foundation, at 512-287-2062 or liz@onestarfoundation.org.
