FINDING A COMMON THREAD:
Strengthening the Fabric of our Communities
WELCOME TO THE TEXAS NONPROFIT SUMMIT!

On behalf of OneStar Foundation, thank you for joining us! We are proud to present the annual Texas Nonprofit Summit in collaboration with nonprofit capacity builders and educators from across Texas.

When this annual event was first launched in 1977, it was envisioned as a statewide training for volunteer leaders. As the Texas nonprofit sector and the unique challenges we face have grown in scope and complexity over the years, the event has evolved into the leading statewide nonprofit conference—with rich, locally driven content that showcases capacity-building efforts, fosters cross-sector partnerships, catalyzes strategies to address local issues, and creates lasting collaborative relationships within the community.

We are grateful to our Presenting Sponsor CITGO, our Leading Sponsor AT&T, and our Supporting Sponsor H-E-B for recognizing the value and impact of creating a space for nonprofit professionals to learn, reflect, and connect. Through their generous support, we have designed a unique day of professional development and networking just for you!

Thank you again for choosing to spend your day with us. We hope you enjoy your Texas Nonprofit Summit experience, and we wish you great success in your efforts to contribute to a more vibrant, connected Texas.

Chris Bugbee

Greetings!

The City of San Antonio is honored to host the 2019 Texas Nonprofit Summit and welcome hundreds of nonprofit professionals, board members, funders, business leaders, and government and academic representatives for an energizing day of learning, networking, and idea sharing.

Like you, we strive to find collaborative, innovative approaches to our work that bring people together. San Antonio’s network of extraordinary nonprofits is a powerful force for good, working alongside the City of San Antonio and many others to meet community needs and help us advance equity and opportunity for all.

While you are here, I hope that you get to experience San Antonio’s rich culture, dynamic economy, and our residents’ kind and gracious nature. San Antonio was founded at the crossroads of emerging cultures and this is evident as you walk our streets, visit our historic World Heritage Missions, and dine in our restaurants to get a taste of our diverse culinary heritage. Among other attractions and historic locations, I urge you to explore our world-renowned Zoo, Sea World, Fiesta Texas, our culturally rich museums, our colorful Riverwalk, and our historic Market Square.

Thank you for all that you do to strengthen communities across Texas. On behalf of my colleagues on the City Council and the entire City organization, thank you for selecting San Antonio for the conference. We look forward to a very successful conference and to welcoming you to our great city!

But, what does it truly take to make partnership with others successful? Who defines success and how? What makes one collaboration work when others seem to go nowhere?

This session explains the key components of a successful partnership or collaboration and how to avoid common pitfalls. You’ll learn about several current collective impact projects happening in Texas and explore how you can establish or participate in a collaboration more effectively.

This session is ideal for nonprofit leaders of all kinds, especially those whose work involves partnerships and collaborations with other organizations and sectors.

HEB Performance Hall

Layton Blaylock, Filmmaker, Director & Founding Partner, Inferno Films

Community First, A Home for the Homeless is a documentary introducing an innovative, new approach to transforming the lives of homeless people through the power of community. The film tells the story of leaders and residents at Community First! Village, a 27-acre, mastered planned development providing affordable, permanent housing for hundreds of people experiencing chronic homelessness in Austin, Texas. As explained by the founder and CEO of Mobile Loaves & Fishes Alan Graham, “It is specifically designed to lift the chronically homeless off the streets of the Austin area offering them a place to call home, helping them to heal from the ravages of life on the streets and allowing them to rediscover a purpose in their lives.” You’ll hear about the heartbreaking events that cause homelessness, and the heartwarming stories of being welcomed into a nurturing environment where dignity and self-worth are restored.

Exploring the Workplace Experience: Guidance for Making Your Nonprofit a Great Place to Work

West Rotunda

Katie Popp, Senior Consultant, Mission Capital

Now more than ever, nonprofit organizations must focus on creating strong internal teams and talent if they plan to attract and retain a skilled and passionate workforce. What type of workplace experiences lead to real employee engagement? How can nonprofit organizations— with limited budgets and demanding workloads—keep employees happy and fulfilled?

We’ll define the ideal workplace experience and uncover the components that make good places to work great – including many strategies that are low or no cost. You’ll walk away with lots of actionable tips for employees at all levels and a framework for making short and long-term changes in your workplace.

Nonprofit leaders who manage teams, work in HR and/or operations, and other nonprofit professionals who have influence over their workplace and employees’ experience will benefit the most from this session.
If current nonprofit workforce hiring trends continue, the sector will need to replace every existing senior executive position within the next eight years. What's more, effective leadership is the most important predictor of organizational sustainability and success. However, most organizations do not have a current succession plan in place—and the ones that do, it is often only for the top-ranking position.

Effective succession planning isn't just about securing the next CEO—it is about building our bench so that we have a team of effective emerging leaders ready to take on their next big assignments. Join us for a hands-on workshop that will assess how your organization's culture and operations are impacting your succession planning strategy. You will leave armed with a succession plan tailored to your organization that you can launch as soon as you return to the office. Participants will:

- Learn about the key drivers of retention
- Conduct an organizational audit that will determine what policies, procedures and operations need to change in order to achieve succession planning goals
- Assess their organization's capacity to attract and retain top talent
- Explore findings from a study on career paths of nonprofit executive leaders
- Use the Cost-of-Turnover© calculator to understand the opportunity costs of filling vacancies
- Create a succession plan to cultivate leaders within their organization as well as recruit new talent dedicated to nonprofit careers.

This session is ideal for Executive Directors, Board Members, and HR professionals.
